

Notice of Privacy Practices

University of Hawaii Cancer Center

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

Introduction

This Notice of Privacy Practices (“Notice”) describes how we may use and disclose your protected health information (“PHI”) to carry out treatment, payment, and/or health care operations and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. It also describes your rights concerning your PHI. PHI is information about you, including information that may identify who you are or where you live, that relates to your past, present, or future physical or mental health or condition, related health care services, and payment for such services.

Who Will Follow This Notice

This Notice describes the privacy practices of the University of Hawaii Cancer Center (UHCC) under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (“HIPAA”). This Notice applies to all employees, medical staff members, allied health professionals, volunteers, and other authorized workforce members who may need access to your protected health information. In addition, all residents, postgraduate fellows, medical students, and students of other health care professions or educational programs of the University of Hawaii system are included.

The independent providers who are providing health care services at or through the University of Hawaii system or who share electronic medical records with the UHCC have agreed to follow this Notice when providing services at or through the UHCC. These independent providers, however, are legally separate and responsible for their own acts.

Our Legal Duty

We are required by law to:

- Keep records of the care that we provided to you,
- Keep your PHI private,
- Notify you, under certain circumstances, of breaches affecting your PHI,
- Abide by the terms of the Notice that is currently in effect, and
- Give you this Notice of our duties and privacy practices with respect to your PHI.

We may change our Notice at any time. Any revision or amendment to this Notice will apply to all of your records that UHCC has created or maintained in the past and for any of your records that we may create or maintain in the future.

We will visibly post a copy of our current Notice. You may request a copy of this Notice from us. This Notice also will be posted on our website at <http://www.uhcancercenter.org>. Your personal doctor may have separate policies or notices regarding the use and disclosure of PHI that is created in his/her private practice.

We May Use and Disclose Medical Information About You

The following categories describe different ways we may use and disclose PHI. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed.

Treatment: We may use and disclose your PHI to provide you with medical treatment or services. For example, we may disclose your PHI to doctors, nurses, and other health care personnel or providers to coordinate the different things you need, such as prescriptions, lab work, and X-rays. We may also permit disclosure of your electronic health record via electronic transfer to other facilities and providers for treatment purposes. We also may disclose your PHI to other people who provide services that are part of your care, such as a hospice or home care agency.

Payment: We may use and disclose your PHI to bill and collect payment for your health care services. We may disclose your PHI to other health care providers and organizations involved in your care to assist in their billing and collection efforts. This may include, for example, disclosures to your health insurance plan about services we recommend for you so your plan can determine eligibility, coverage, or medical necessity or for utilization review activities. We also may disclose your PHI to third parties for collection of payment.

Health Care Operations: We may use your PHI or share it with others in the course of operations. For example, we may use your information to evaluate: the performance of our staff in caring for you; the quality of our services; and effectiveness of various treatments. This includes combining information we have with information from other health care providers to compare our services and outcomes so we can see where we can make improvements in our care and services. We may remove information that identifies you from this set of medical information so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning who the specific patients are. We also may call you by name in the waiting areas. We also may disclose your PHI to third parties who perform various activities on our behalf, such as accounting, transcription services, data analysis, and risk management.

In addition, we may disclose your PHI for payment activities and certain business operations of another health care provider or health plan as long as they have or had a relationship with you; the information disclosed pertains to that relationship; and the information is used for one of the following health care operations: quality assessment and improvement; case management and care coordination.

Education and Training: We may disclose PHI to doctors, nurses, technicians, training doctors, medical students, postgraduate fellows, and students in one of our professional schools for review and learning purposes. These same classes of individuals and other health care professional students may participate in examinations or procedures and in your care as part of our educational programs.

Health Related Benefits and Services: We may use and disclose your PHI to tell you about health-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you.

Research: Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose your PHI for research purposes but only as allowed by law or with your permission. We may use or allow other researchers to review your PHI for the purpose of preparing a plan for a specific research project but, in that event, none of your identifiable information will be allowed to leave the health care component. We may use your PHI to contact you with information about a research study in which you might be interested in participating. If you choose to participate in a research study, you will be asked to sign a written form authorizing the use and disclosure of your PHI for that study. All research studies must be reviewed and approved by a committee, called an Institutional Review Board (IRB), before subjects may be enrolled. This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of medical information, trying to balance the research needs with patients' need for privacy of their medical information.

For Fundraising: We may use or disclose certain PHI to the University of Hawaii Foundation to contact you to raise money for the University of Hawaii system. If you do not want to be contacted in this way, please notify the University System HIPAA Privacy and Security Officer(s) and/or UHCC Privacy Officer (contact information is available at <http://www.hawaii.edu/infosec/hipaa>).

Personal Representatives: We may disclose your PHI to a personal representative who has authority under applicable law to make health care decisions on your behalf.

You Will Have the Opportunity to Agree or Object to the Following Uses and Disclosures

Provided you do not object, we may disclose your PHI in the following situations after we discuss it with you. If, however, you are not able to object, we may disclose your PHI if it is consistent with your known prior expressed wishes and is determined to be in your best interests. As soon as you are able, we will give you the opportunity to object to any further disclosures.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care and Notification: Unless you object, we may disclose to a member of your family, a relative, a close friend, or any other person you identify, information that directly relates to that person's involvement in your health care. We also may give information to someone who helps pay for your care. We may share PHI with these people to notify them about your location and general condition. Finally, we may disclose PHI about you to disaster relief agencies, such as the Red Cross, so that your family can be notified about your condition, status, and location.

We May Make the Following Uses and Disclosures Without Your Authorization

When Required By Law: We will use and disclose your PHI when we are required to do so by federal, state, or local law.

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety: We may use and disclose your PHI to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of others.

For Organ and Tissue Donation: We may disclose your PHI to a designated organ donor program as required or permitted by law.

For Specific Government Functions: We may release medical information about you to authorized federal officials for intelligence, counterintelligence, and other national security activities authorized by law, as well as to others so they may provide protection to the President and other authorized persons or foreign heads of state. If you are a member of the armed forces, we may release your information as required to your military command authorities.

For Legal Proceedings: We may disclose your PHI in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process by someone involved in a dispute, but only after efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the PHI requested.

For Law Enforcement: We may use or disclose your PHI for law enforcement purposes, such as legal processes, limited information requests for identification and location purposes, information pertaining to victims of a crime, suspicion that death has occurred as a result of criminal conduct, a crime occurring on our premises, and certain medical emergencies (not on the premises).

For Health Oversight: We may disclose PHI about you to a state or federal health oversight agency that is authorized by law to oversee our operations. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor our health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.

To Coroners, Medical Examiners, and Funeral Directors: We may disclose your PHI to a coroner or medical examiner. This may be necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or to determine the cause of death. We also may release PHI to funeral directors as necessary for them to carry out their duties.

For Workers' Compensation: We may disclose your PHI as permitted by workers' compensation laws and other similar programs.

For Public Health: We will disclose PHI to public health authorities for public health activities, investigations, or interventions as required by law. Public health activities generally include:

- Reporting births and deaths, birth defects, children at risk, and child abuse or neglect;
- Preventing or controlling disease, injury, or disability;
- Notifying people of recalls of medical products they may be using;
- Notifying a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease or condition;
- Reporting reactions to medications or problems with products; and
- Notifying the appropriate government authority if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse or neglect.

Regarding Inmates or Individuals in Custody: If you are in legal custody, we may disclose your PHI to a correctional institution or law enforcement official. PHI may be disclosed to provide you with health care, to protect your health and safety or the health and safety of others, or for the safety and security of the correctional institution.

Other Uses and Disclosures of Your PHI

Other uses and disclosures of your PHI not covered by this Notice or the laws that apply to us will be made only with your written authorization. If you provide us permission to use or disclose your PHI, you may revoke that permission, in writing, at any time. If you revoke your permission, we will stop any use or disclosure of PHI previously permitted by your written authorization. We are unable to "take back" any disclosures we have already made with your permission. We generally will not sell your PHI, use or disclose your PHI for marketing, or use or disclose any PHI contained in psychotherapy notes without your authorization.

Your Rights Regarding Your PHI

- You have the right to request restrictions on how we use and disclose your PHI and we will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide you emergency treatment. To request a restriction, your request must be in writing to the University System HIPAA Privacy and Security Officer(s) and/or UHCC Privacy Officer and must describe:
